Curriculum

The overall structure of the Curriculum is designed to focus on the Student centric and diverse learning that is required for the program with scope for research and exploration. Strong Theoretical foundation is very much essential to inform students about various dimensions and theories of Urban Design.

The curriculum is equipped with more theoretical learning in the initial years and gradually reduces as the students reach the final semester. Core learning is through Studios and Labs in the program with introducing students to various types of urban issues at varying scales and then come up with Urban interventions at these varying scales.
